\ast Marco Reina 7066486

Problem 1.1 with the initial centroids located as described, on the first iteration the point x1 has en euclidean distance of 0 from centroids located as described, on the first iteration the point x1 has en euclidean distance of 0 from centroids located as described, on the first iteration the point x1 has en euclidean distance of 0 from centroids located as described, on the first iteration the point x1 has en euclidean distance of 0 from centroids located as described.